

WHAT DOES IT TAKE FOR FOOD SECURITY?

Can the Okanagan region of south central BC, Canada become food secure?

What about Calgary, Alberta Canada, near the foothills of the Rocky Mountains?

What about the area you live in?

Food security does not rely on imports. It means growing most of the food you eat where you live. Could the two regions work together since their major food production complements each other (fruit and meat)? Talking is how we find answers. People talking is how food security starts.

Help answer these questions and maybe help yourself too.

WHAT does food security mean to you?

WHY is food security important?

WHO does the actual work to build food security and increase organic supply?

WHERE to start the food security conversations?

HOW to change the Industrial Agri-Food Complex?

WHEN can any region become food secure?

Take your time. Talk with friends and family and co-workers, in small groups.

We find 3 or 5 people, no more or less, works well to help build a consensus.
